

OUR PEOPLE

---

mbradley@remcony.com

Michael J. Bradley Chief Marketing Officer

Bradley has been with REMCO for more than 11 years, starting in 2002 as an account executive. He was promoted to COO in 2013, and in 2015 he was promoted to CMO. He has been an integral member of the management team, handling all aspects of operations and sales for a staff of more than 200 employees.

Bradley's impressive client portfolio includes the historic building restoration of Essex County Courthouse, Fidelity Philadelphia Trust Co. (National Register of Historic Places), Fidelity Property in Philadelphia and Newark City Hall. In 2007, his team won the Newark City Hall Historic Preservation Award.

A New Jersey native, Bradley received corporate training from the American Management Association in New York, where he received certificates in fundamental selling skills, principals of professional selling and customer service excellence. He began his career at Sherman Williams Paints in New York, working his way up over the course of 13 years from assistant store manager to marketing manager. He spent two years at Finnaren and Haley Paints in New Jersey as a sales manager before joining REMCO.

bbecker@remcony.com

Brian Becker Vice President Of Operations

With a strong management background in both construction and restoration services, Brian Becker joined REMCO in 2014 as its Senior Operations Manager and was recently promoted to VP of Operations. In this leadership role, he is part of the executive management team and handles day-to-day operations, strategizing company objectives, driving operational excellence and growing client relations.

Becker attended Alfred University in upstate New York. He began his career at Beacon Metal and Marble Maintenance Inc. as a field supervisor and manager. Thereafter, he joined Nulife Metal and Marble Systems as both managing partner and director of operations, titles he held for 10 years before moving on as vice president and director of operations for Restoration Specialty Services LLC. Prior to joining REMCO this year, he was President of Versatile Specialty Services Corp., where he worked since 2007.

His notable key projects include extensive marble and terrazzo repairs and installations throughout the public spaces of the Empire State Building; exterior metal façade restoration at the Library Hotel; metal door restoration at St. Ignatius Loyola Church; and metal and stone restoration and installation at 63 and 67 Wall Street.

asciarrino@remcony.com

Angelo Sciarrino
Marble Operations Manager

A seasoned veteran with more than three decades of experience in building restoration and preservation within the tri-state region, Angelo Sciarrino joined REMCO in the early 1990s and climbed the ranks to the Management team, overseeing all the company's marble operations projects as Marble Operations Manager.

Angelo's specialty involves restoring marble, granite and stone. His impressive portfolio includes prestigious clients in both the commercial and residential real estate sectors including Grand Central Station, Federal Reserve, Essex County Courthouse, City Hall, Museum of Natural History, MOMA and the World Trade Financial Center.

After 26 years with REMCO, Angelo's knowledge, leadership style and skilled craftsmanship have helped make the company's marble division one of the best in the industry.

snegron@remcony.com

Suzette Negron
Human Resources Manager

An established Human Resource Professional with more than 10 years of experience, Suzette Negron oversees all HR policies and procedures and hiring practices for REMCO.

Suzette is skilled in a variety of HR disciplines, primarily employee relations. Throughout her career, she has mentored, trained and managed many employees in industries including janitorial, security, hospitality, real estate and manufacturing. Suzette is a trusted resource whose career has been built on finding solutions to intricate HR matters, maintaining employer/employee engagement in the workplace and conducting successful recruitment efforts. She maintains stable, reputable business alliances, and stays current with ever-changing employment laws and industry trends.

Suzette is a member of the Society for Human Resource Management, the world's largest HR membership organization devoted to human resource management.